

Help: When I go to get codes for the image I have resized I do not know which part I am supposed to copy and paste for a url to the photo. Please help

There are four options to select from. "The link to your image is" code is a link that brings people back to Resizr, to see the image. You could use this if you wanted to post a link, but not an image into a message somewhere. "The HTML code is" code is raw HTML code, and you'd use that when something asks for HTML code. "The BBcode is" code is used for forum postings that accept BBcode. "The MySpace Code is" code is used for posting on myspace.
